Meridia Offline Licensing

Introduction

This method of activation should be used in emergencies, or situations where there's no possibility of connection to the Internet (at least one-time) for the purposes of regular, login-based activation.

Activation Process

There are three parts to the Offline Activation process:

1) User generates a License Request and sends it to Meridia Support
2) Based on the specific License Request, Meridia generates a LockBox License file) and sends it back to the user
3) User puts the LockBox License file into a pre-defined folder:
   C:\Users\USER\AppData\Local\Meridia\LockBox (where "USER" is an actual login/username)
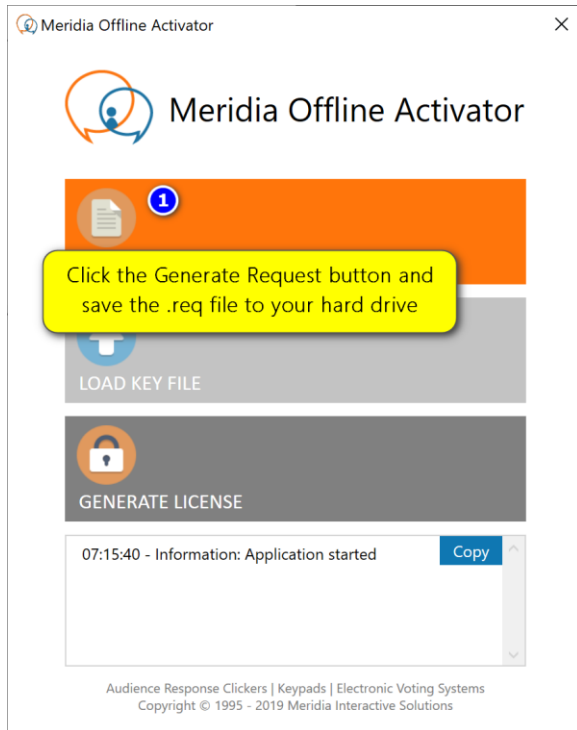

Assumptions

User must have access to internet on any other computer, in order to send and receive and email with the License Request and LockBox License files.

User uses any authorized, offline method of transporting the resulting LockBox License file to the computer that needs the license and cannot connect to the Internet.
